Exciting New Originals

From J.J. Abrams and Stephen King comes this horror-thriller set in the fictional Maine town of Castle Rock, an ever-present location throughout King's most beloved works.

Created by Beau Willimon and starring Sean Penn and Natascha McElhone, this groundbreaking futuristic series explores the challenges of taking the first steps toward interplanetary colonization.

Hulu and Blumhouse Productions (Get Out, The Purge) are partnering for a first-of-its-kind anthology series that will bring 12 quintessential horror genre stories to Hulu throughout the year.

Executive produced by George Clooney, Catch-22 follows the story of Yossarian (Christopher Abbott) and Colonel Cathcart (Kyle Chandler) as they navigate the murky bureaucratic rules of WWII.

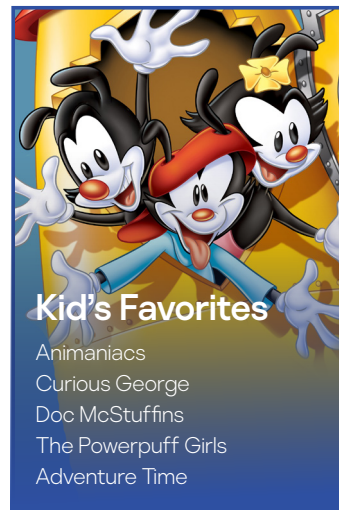

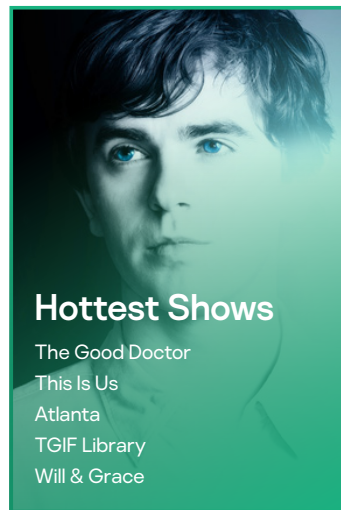

Mindy Kaling will executive produce and write this hour-long anthology series based on the 1994 British romantic comedy classic of the same name.

Executive producer Jerrod Carmichael and comedian Ramy Youssef bring their unique comedic voices – and Ramy's commentary on the Muslim-American experience – to Hulu in this all-new half-hour series.
